Who works in the Boston Primary Care Network?

Our team has developed to keep your health needs at the centre of what we do. Our traditional group of doctors, advanced nurse practitioners and practice nurses are now working alongside a number of other healthcare providers, including:

- Clinical pharmacists, who carry out medication reviews and give you advice on what medications are best for your health problems.
- Physiotherapists, who deliver advice, arrange tests and offer 'hands-on' physiotherapy sessions helping you to become more mobile, active and productive in your daily life by helping you restore movement and function.
- Mental health practitioners, who support people living with mental health problems.

Our reception staff are trained care navigators who will ask you questions about your health needs. This is to make sure you are seen by the right person in the right place and at the right time. Please trust your care navigators and work with us to help you.
